

85,000 At Chrysler Strike Over Pensions

Six Months Of Talks Unsuccessful

Detroit, Jan. 25—(AP)—The CIO pension drive erupted today into a strike of 85,000 Chrysler Corp. workers.

Contract negotiations between the company and the CIO United Auto Workers broke up in a tight deadlock. They had gone on for more than six months.

There was agreement on the principle of a $100-a-month pension plan. But the UAW wouldn't accept Chrysler's terms for operating it. So hourly rated workers—except for office and maintenance employees—in Chrysler's plants across the nation marched out to an uncertain future. No direct path to a settlement was in sight.

U. S. Mediators Hopeful
Government mediators, however, were already hopeful of bringing the parties together again for more negotiations after a "cooling off" period.

A grueling 24-hour bargaining session preceded the break-off of today's talks at 9:45 a.m. Fifteen minutes later a mighty tide of men poured out of the company's main plants—right on the union's 10 o'clock deadline. Stamping presses and assembly lines clanked to a halt.

All work on Chrysler, De Soto, Plymouth and Dodge cars in 25 plants stopped.

The strike also brought layoff of more than 30,000 workers at Briggs Manufacturing Co. plants in Detroit and Evanston, Ind. Briggs makes bodies for Chrysler Corp.

Lengthy Strike Will Idle 110,000
A lengthy strike will put almost all Chrysler's 110,000 employees, union and non-union, out of work. An estimated 100,000 workers in supplier plants and auto dealerships undoubtedly will be affected soon.

Impact of the walkout on the nation's economy was reflected in a decline of the stock market, partly attributed to the Chrysler situation. Roush hopes for new records in auto production this year were clouded.

Here is the core of the dispute: Chrysler is willing to grant a pension plan allowing workers to retire at 65, after 24 years service, on $100 a month, including social security benefits. It also would finance an improved health and welfare program.

The company insists, however, that it retain complete control of the pension setup, making payments as they fall due. It also wants the present contract extended for five years, renewable annually only on wages.

Coplon-Gubitchev Rift Spreads To Defense Attorneys

New York, Jan. 25—(AP)—The rift between Judith Coplon and her accused co-spy, Valentin A. Gubitchev, spread today to their defense lawyers.

Abraham L. Pomerantz, counsel for the Russian Gubitchev, vigorously protested against the kind of address which Archibald Palmer, Miss Coplon's attorney, plans to make to the jury tomorrow.

"This is not the first instance of differences between Mr. Palmer and myself," Pomerantz told Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan. "The fact is, we don't see eye to eye on a number of questions."

Palmer had asked and got permission to tell the jury about the Washington trial in which Miss Coplon was convicted of stealing secret government papers for the Russians.

He said it would be "straitjacketing" him if he couldn't refer to that trial and to the government's admitted tapping of the defendants' telephone wires.

Pomerantz contended that Gubitchev's case would be "very seriously prejudiced" by any reference to the Washington trial.

ICC Gives Phone Co. Rate Increase

Chicago, Jan. 25—(AP)—The Illinois Commerce Commission today granted the Illinois Allied Telephone company, serving several Central Illinois communities, a rate increase of $29,825 yearly.

The company serves the towns of Dover, Manlius, La Moille, Ohio, Wyanet, Mineral, Sheffield, Tiskilwa, Ladd, Walnut, Spring Valley and Princeton.

The company had asked a $34,847 boost to meet wage levels required by the federal minimum wage law, and to pay the costs of converting to dial operation.

The new rates, effective Feb. 1, represent increases of from five to 15 per cent depending on the type of service.

Illinois News Briefs

Hopedale, Ill., Jan. 25—(AP)—A truck driver told police today a man in an old black coupe held him up last night and robbed him of $125. The trucker was Harold Goodrich, 919 N. Water St., Decatur. He said he stopped at the intersection of state routes 121 and 122, when the man in the automobile leaped out, thrust a gun through the cab window, and demanded his money.

Centerville, Ill., Jan. 25—(AP)—Illinois Central railroad posted notices here today that it will seek state permission to abandon operation of passenger trains No. 29 and No. 30 between Chicago and Carbondale. They are called The Illini.

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 25—(AP)—Steeplejacks today removed the tottering spire of St. James Catholic church, which had been loosened by high winds.

Firemen roped off streets around the church yesterday. They tried to repair the spire by using their aerial ladder, but were not successful.

East St. Louis, Ill., Jan. 25—(AP)—There's a heavy run here on one-ounce whiskey shot glasses—empty. The new Illinois law fixing the legal size of bar shots is responsible.

Edward P. Schwartz, president of a supply company, says he sold about 5,000 one-ounce glasses in less than a month as tavern keepers "retooled for the law" which became effective Jan. 1.

Chicago, Jan. 25—(AP)—Chester M. Wasik can talk about "my first eight years in college" for he's just finished a course of study that started 18 years ago.

Saturday he will get his bachelor's degree in industrial engineering from the Illinois Institute of Technology. The 38-year-old department store employee began his long session of evening study by just taking occasional courses that caught his fancy.

Chicago, Jan. 25—(AP)—Marion McKay, 27-year-old negro charged with murdering his white employer in Florida, has agreed to return voluntarily for trial.

Advices Congress Atomic Plants Are Ahead Of Schedule

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—President Truman advised congress today that expansion of atomic energy plants is running ahead of schedule, and asked for $87,650,000 of financing.

This money is in the government's budget for the 12 months beginning next June 30, but Mr. Truman said it is needed now because of the speed-up in the program.

The president also asked $7,000,000 for the Tennessee Valley authority to use in building facilities to supply additional power to the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic project.

The sums were included in a request for $800,818,000 of supplemental appropriations and contract authority. Nearly all this money had been figured into the government's spending program previously.

CHICKEN LAYS EGG IN DEMONSTRATORS HAND

Vinita, Okla., Jan. 25—(AP)—It couldn't have been more convincing. Mrs. Eldon Legg was discussing chickens before her home demonstration.

"Now this," she pointed to one of the breed perched on her palm, "is a good laying hen."

Obviously overwhelmed, the biddy promptly laid an egg in Mrs. Legg's hand.

Skipper's Bluff Gets U.S. Ship Out Of Red Port After 10 Days

(Editors: Wayne Richardson, Associated Press correspondent en route home from a Hong Kong assignment, was the only newspaperman aboard the Flying Arrow on its action-packed voyage through China waters. This dispatch was written as the ship prepared to dock at Kobe.)

By Wayne Richardson
Aboard The Flying Arrow At Kobe, Japan, Thursday, Jan. 26—(AP)—The poker-playing skipper of this U. S. freighter pulled the bluff of a lifetime and sprang his ship out of a hostile Tsingtao, communist port of North China.

In the midst of a row over his clearance papers at the navigation bureau Monday, Captain David Jones of Chicago called on his poker technique, turned to the communist officials and declared:

"If my vessel is not allowed to sail or (unless) given sufficient reason for its detention, I will radio American destroyers outside to come in and get me—that I am being held unlawfully."

There was no destroyers outside. The last one we had seen was the destroyer Bausell. It had escorted us to within eight miles of Tsingtao 10 days ago. That was after a Chinese nationalist gunboat shelled us on an approach to Shanghai Jan. 9.

After delivering his ultimatum Jones stalked angrily from the Tsingtao navigation office. Shortly thereafter, the clearance papers were delivered to him aboard the Flying Arrow. We cast off immediately.

The communists had given us a mixed reception. Quarantine officers who boarded us came with soldiers armed with submachine guns and rifles. They declared they considered American ships unfriendly.

It took four exasperating days to get docked. Thereafter, there were countless delays in getting our $10,000,000 cargo, originally destined for Shanghai, unloaded.

Yet in interviews at headquarters, the communists told Jones they were friendly to all ships. Jones told them he didn't think all the guns of the boarding party looked friendly.

Then the skipper of this Isbrandtsen Line ship suggested that as a gesture of friendship the communists allow his crew to go ashore.

"After much wrangling," Jones told me, "these (shore passes) were granted, making us the first Americans accorded such privilege."

I spent four days ashore while the cargo was being unloaded. The communists occupy the huge installations which the U. S. navy bought from the nationalists when Tsingtao was an anchorage for American fleet in the western Pacific.

These include the old marine air base, the navy headquarters and port buildings, the consulate general's residence, the admiral's residence and the navy officers club.

I found business almost at a standstill at Tsingtao, once one of the busiest ports in North China. Few ships call. Industries are shut down. The fishing industry never had been revived.

The quarantine officers and soldiers gave us a bad time when they came aboard the day after we anchored Jan. 13.

They flocked all over the ship and into the dining salon. They wouldn't go into the ship's office to discuss business. They made a mess of the salon. Jones finally got rid of them by ordering the ship's lifeboat out to take them ashore.

They were back in the afternoon. This time there were twice as many soldiers and twice as many guns. They finally left after Jones told them it was not his practice to make a pigsty of the dining salon and the ship's office was where business was transacted.

Jones said there was constant needling from communist officials on his daily trips to communist headquarters.

Says National Crisis Is Threatening

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP) President Truman's chief mine expert signaled for a showdown in the coal dispute today with the flat statement that the dwindling supplies threatened a national emergency.

But a high administration official reported that a White House move to settle the seven-months old row was unlikely before next week.

He pointed to the possibility that John L. Lewis himself might take some action before then to step up production of his United Mine Workers—88,000 of whom are now on strike in defiance of his orders.

President In "Watchful Waiting"
This source described the president's attitude as one of "watchful waiting."

Pressure for presidential intervention mounted, however, against this background of developments:

1. Dr. James Boyd, director of the Bureau of Mines, said he had in the White House last night: "Unless there is an immediate resumption of substantially increased coal production, the national economy, health and welfare of the nation is now or soon will be imperiled."

Boyd told the Senate labor committee that the country now has only 23 days supply of coal on hand, with another five days stocks in transit. He said the "danger point" was a 25-day supply.

2. The number of idled workers in related industries jumped to 17,000 as railroads, steel plants and other manufacturers were caught in the fuel pinch.

Lewis Calls Meeting
3. Lewis called a meeting here of leaders from UMW districts where his union followers have refused to heed his "suggestion" that they go back to work. These talks presumably were to map ways to deal with that situation and possibly to chart further strategy moves in the stalemate bargaining sessions with the mine owners.

The UMW boss maintained his usual silence on the developments. But persons in close touch with the contract negotiations pointed out that, in view of dwindling coal supplies, Lewis now is in an improved position to push for the concessions which the operators have rejected ever since the old contract expired last July.

These calls for a wage increase to $15 per day, plus higher operator payments into the union's welfare and pension fund.

They said further that if he succeeds in getting dissident diggers back on the job by next Monday he might argue that there are no grounds for government intervention, even though the miners work only three-days a week as they have done ever since December 1.

When a farmer has a problem, he knows that his state university and the U. S. department of agriculture are interested," he said. "He often finds that they have done research on the problem. If they have, he can get a publication telling what is known and what he can do."

He said the same is true for the householder in a small measure because of the University of Illinois small homes council.

"But as far as I know, there is nowhere else in the country where a satisfactory beginning has been made in housing research, education and publication," he said.

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 25—(AP)—The government should cooperate with industry and educational institutions in housing research on a national scope, a housing authority said tonight.

William H. Scheick, executive director of the National Research Council's building advisory board, said the University of Illinois small homes council has set a pattern of coordinated housing research, education and publication which the nation should follow. He addressed contractors and builders attending the university's short course in residential construction.

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 25—(AP)—A prosecutor promised a grand jury investigation of a shortage in a CIO United Steelworkers strike fund.

John Stanton, chief deputy prosecutor, said the report of a $2,800 shortage will be presented to the Lake county grand jury this week on request of the USW legal department.

Stanton said USW Local 1014, which has 18,000 members, reported the shortage was in accounts of Robert E. Cox, 35, former local financial secretary.

Cox resigned last week but later asked David J. McDonald, USW international secretary-treasurer, to reconsider the resignation so he could fight the local's charges.

Cox said the $10,500 strike fund was handled by "myself and others who I did not know."

Cox has long opposed the CIO political action committee, and a trial committee convicted him in 1946 on charges of circulating untruths against union officials. The union members later rejected the committee's findings.

CORN STOCKS ENORMOUS
Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—Domestic stocks on Jan. 25—January 1 were the largest on record for that date, totaling 2,829,664,000 bushels, the Agriculture department reported today. The corn stocks compared with 2,641,330,000 a year ago and with 1,555,504,000 two years ago.

Winter Hits U.S. With Record Heat, Bitter Cold

Housewife Says She Can Identify Brink's Robber

Boston, Jan. 25—(AP)—Today's best bet in cracking Brink's 1,500,000 robbery was listed by police as a housewife's report that she could identify a "mystery man" who sat in a car outside the armored car company garage "night after night" before the Jan. 17 bandit raid.

That was the top lead, police said, after a lineup of 33 suspects failed to help much and a shortlived clue in Cleveland, O., fizzled.

Police identified the housewife as Mrs. Marion Goossens, 46, of Prince street, the street which runs alongside the looted money room.

The man at the car wheel, Mrs. Goossens was quoted as saying, was "tall and athletic-looking" with black hair and blue eyes.

Boston's crime chiefs said they were interested especially because the lead fitted their theory of detailed planning by the eight-man gang which vanished after a 20-minute commando-like attack.

Steel Executives Say Their Prices Are Too Low Now

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—Executives of some of the nation's biggest steel companies declared today that steel prices, instead of being too high, are too low to assure the future health of the industry.

Four companies went on record to that effect in statements to the Senate House economic committee. The committee is weighing protests already lodged against the industry's recent increase of nearly $4 a ton in steel prices.

The four companies are Inland Steel, National Steel, Jones and Laughlin, and Allegheny Ludlum.

President Clarence B. Randall of Inland Steel filed a statement which he committee declared:

"A higher and more realistic price level is needed to assure a fair return to the investor and an adequate flow of new capital into productive channels."

"Labor has received generous consideration. The forgotten man has been the stockholder—the investor of risk capital."

"This situation in our opinion should be corrected if the American people are to enjoy the benefits of a dynamic and expanding economy."

68 In St. Louis, As Montana Ices Over At -57

By The Associated Press
Winter hit parts of the country Wednesday with bone-chilling cold, record heat, sleet and snow.

The temperature plummeted to 65 degrees below zero in northwest Canada and 57 below in northern Montana—low enough to freeze mercury thermometers sold at Spokane, Wash., -22, lowest reading in 60 years.

A new blast of freezing weather was headed toward southern California.

125 Degrees Difference
It was 125 degrees colder in Chester, Mont., than in St. Louis. Mo. Chester had an overnight low of -57. St. Louis, had 68 above.

Summer weather changed into winter weather overnight as the cold front rolled across Oklahoma and Missouri. In some places the temperature dropped 70 degrees.

A June in January heat wave sent records tumbling at many places in the midwest and east, sharp temperature drops were forecast for parts of the north central states.

The Chester reading is only nine degrees away from the coldest ever recorded in the United States. That was -66 at Yellowstone Park on Feb. 9, 1933.

Other low readings included Adel, Mont., -42; Cut Bank, Mont., -34; Dickinson, N.C., -33; Bismarck, N.D., -30, and International Falls, Minn., -25.

Pittsburgh Has 76
At the other extreme these heat records were set in the shirt sleeve weather areas:

Pittsburgh 76, highest winter reading ever recorded there. Chicago 67, highest January reading in history; Detroit 66, a record for January; Springfield, O., 78; Cincinnati 75; Columbus, 73 and Cleveland 72.

Overnight temperatures never went under 65 in Indianapolis, three degrees above the all time high for the date.

A soupy fog hampered shipping and air travel in the vicinity of New York City. The liner Queen Mary was stalled in the outer bay. New York itself had temperatures in the mid-60's but higher readings upstate made for the warmest day of the winter. At Rochester it was 74 and at Buffalo a record 72.

Sleet storms hit most of New England and parts of Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin, piling a layer up to three inches thick. The Iowa storms—both sleet and snow—forced some rural schools to close and a county basketball tournament was postponed.

TRADE GROUP ASKS BREAD PRICE PROBE

Washington, Jan. 25—(AP)—The Federal Trade Commission wants congress to finance an investigation of bread prices.

The commission wants to know, its spokesmen told the House appropriations committee, why the price of bread, which went up when wheat prices were boosted, didn't come down when the price of wheat dropped.

Its request for funds was made public today by the committee. Wheat prices, the commission said, have dropped from a peak of $3.16 a bushel on November 28, 1947, to $2.16 on August 6, 1949.

Camp Point Youth Awarded Carnegie Hero Fund Medal

Pittsburgh, Jan. 25—(AP)—Kenneth G. Hunsaker, 38, of Camp Point, Ill., today was awarded a bronze medal by the Carnegie hero fund commission for rescuing a 69-year-old woman from her blazing home.

Hunsaker, a feed mill operator, rescued Anna M. Hornecker from fire in her home at Camp Point March 12, 1948, the commission's statement said. Miss Hornecker died in a hospital four days later.

"Flames from a stove ignited the clothing of Miss Hornecker and spread to the walls of the kitchen of her home," the award resume said. "Hunsaker, who was crippled in one leg and could walk only short distances without a cane, reached the house and upon being told that Miss Hornecker was inside, forced open the front door."

"He was unfamiliar with the interior and crawled groping in dense smoke along the walls of two rooms. The smoke caused Hunsaker to cough violently."

"Guided by moans of Miss Hornecker, he found her inert on the floor. Freeing her arm, which has become entangled in the rungs of a chair, Hunsaker crawled dragging her back through the two rooms. Near the front door he called for aid. Another man entered, and he and Hunsaker carried Miss Hornecker to the porch."

YOU CAN HELP TO FIGHT POLIO

The response of the public to the March of Dimes in Jacksonville at this stage of the annual campaign is heartening. Many have given liberally, and will give again while the booths are in operation in the business district. Many do not stop at dimes—they give quarters, dollars and larger amounts.

The public is well aware of the need for the success of this campaign. Too many persons, children and adults, have fallen victim to dreaded polio, and have been helped by the Infantile Paralysis Fund, for the public to be unacquainted with this great humanitarian work. The public knows that the money it invests in the March of Dimes moves directly to the care, treatment, and rehabilitation of polio sufferers. Here in Morgan county we have had occasion to observe first-hand how the fund works.

The success of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers in conducting their phase of the campaign last Saturday was an inspiration for all workers. The union members met the challenge seriously. Through their efforts in one day more than $1,000 was contributed to the fund. This was the largest amount ever to be collected for the March of Dimes in one day in this city.

Numerous other organizations are devoting time and effort to the campaign which will continue through this week. Polio was especially widespread and vicious last year. Every cent that the public contributes in the present campaign will be put to good use. Success for the March of Dimes is one of the best safeguards we can throw up against polio.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Children With Chickenpox Must Be Kept Isolated

By Edwin F. Jordan, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Chickenpox does not often kill or produce serious complications. Nevertheless, it is not a disease to ignore entirely. In delicate children, particularly those who are tuberculous, chickenpox can be rather severe and cause some complications. In rare cases, inflammation of the kidneys may develop.

The disease is likely to come in epidemics and is most common between the ages of 2 and 6. Grow-ups rarely come down with chickenpox because so many have had it in childhood and have become permanently resistant.

The average time between exposure and the appearance of the first symptoms is from 10 to 15 days. The first sign of the disease is likely to be fever, sometimes accompanied by a slight chilly feeling. The typical blisters may not be present at first but the skin may appear somewhat reddened.

The typical blisters on the skin usually begin to appear within 24 hours of the first symptom. At first they are most common on the back or chest, but may begin on the forehead or face. They generally start as raised reddish lumps. After about two days the contents of the blisters become pus-like and cloudy instead of clear as it is at first.

There may be a good deal of uncomfortable itching, especially in adults. In a few days the blisters become covered with a dark brownish crust which falls off and, as a rule, does not leave scarring. Fresh crops of blisters come on during the first two or three days so that by the fourth day the pox, or blisters, are in all stages of development. They do not run together as happens in smallpox.

The cause of chickenpox is probably a virus rather than a germ. A virus, of course, is a living organism which is too small to see under the ordinary microscope and which can only be grown artificially on living tissue, such as the egg yolk.

Special treatment for chickenpox is usually not necessary. The disease is spread by contact from a sick child to one who is well and has never had the disease. For this reason a child with chickenpox should be kept away from others and also should be kept in bed until the acute stage of the disease is over. Something soothing lotions or powders are helpful to decrease the itching and scratching. Bandaging the hands or otherwise preventing the child from touching the pox and possibly getting an unnecessary permanent scar may be needed to prevent scratching.

Baked Ham Brightens Many Occasions

MENU
Apricot Nectar
Baked Ham
Buttered Asparagus
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Tomato Cakes With
Cottage Cheese
Hard Rolls
Butter or Margarine
Fresh Fruit Bowl
Beverages

Center a meal around a plump, juicy baked ham and everyone automatically seems to settle down to wonderful eating. There's no doubt about it, in nearly every home perfectly baked ham is one of the simplest methods for receiving cooking compliments.

If buffet entertaining is coming up, a regal ham covered with a glistening glaze insures refreshment success whether it is served hot or cold. However, for the small group or family a butt or shank half of ham may prove to be more practical. The butt half is especially suitable for decorating much the same as the whole ham. The shank half is ideal for slicing.

No Basting
Expert basting or really roasting—either a whole or half ham—can be quite simple and it demands so little of your attention. Just place the meat fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan without water. No basting is necessary for the fat side up, the hot juices trickle down through the meat to baste as it cooks. A meat thermometer aides in determining correct degree of doneness. Before the ham goes in the oven, the thermometer is inserted in it so that it does not rest on fat or bone.

Smoked ham is baked in a 300° F. oven allowing 15 to 18 minutes per pound for whole hams, 20 to 25 minutes per pound for shank or butt halves. The meat thermometer will register 160° F. when cooked. It is this slow cooking that results in an evenly browned, juicy ham. Fresh pork requires a 350° F. oven to bring out all of its rich flavor.

When the meat is cooked, take it out of the oven and with a sharp knife carefully remove the skin from the fat surface. The ham is now ready to be covered with any desired glaze. Return the ham to the oven, turn the temperature up 400° F. and allow time for the glaze to set—15 to 20 minutes. So that the meat will be easier to carve, remove it from the oven from 20 to 30 minutes before meal time.

Glasses
Among the tempting glasses appealing with tangy smoked ham, there is red jelly, apple sauce, whipped apple jelly, cranberry sauce, mustard and brown sugar, apricot or peach puree or strained honey.

Hypnotism Should Wear Trousers!

By HAL BOYLE
New York (AP)—Have you hypnotized your wife or husband? Why not?

This is the best solution of everybody's marital problems yet dreamed up.

A New York professor recently indicated that problems of this nature can be solved by the numbo-jumbo of hypnotism.

I say that this opens the answer to all the problems of the western world, which are largely male verses female rather than American against Russian.

Personally, fellows, regardless of what you do, I am either going to learn to hypnotize my wife or hire a man to do it for me.

How can a guy afford not to? You take the average wife. What does she give you but a lot of common sense and "love's old sweet yelp?"

Her life is ruled by a crass sense of man's injustice, which is the mixed product of lady loneliness, lady inefficiency, and lady propriety. For all this she blames her husband.

It also is needless to point out that wives are the soft instruments of power in our civilization. Why remark again upon the female fist in the velvet glove? We all have felt it.

Our only possible defense is—hypnotism.

Personally, I have no desire to fork out $15 to a hypnotist who will mesmerize my wife.

Let's be realistic, even if it costs $25—if I can hire a mumbo-jumbo artist who will get her to pat me lovingly on the cheek on the morning after the night before under the mistaken impression that I am a misunderstood Saint Bernard.

Well? bow-wow!

The only danger I can see is that terrible weapon of hypnotism may fall into wily hands.

Looking at it that way, boys, our secrets are gone. Our favorite bartenders will sell us helplessly down the river at the snap of female fingers. Our little white lies will stand out like five o'clock shadow at ten p.m.

Believe me, friends, hypnotism should never become the poor woman's radar. But it can be man's best friend—if he doesn't dog it.

American Legion Mails 200 Toys For West Europe

A box of 200 toys was sent to Philadelphia by freight today. It was Jacksonville's contribution to the American Legion's "Tide of Toys" program. Its purpose is to provide playthings for the children of western Europe, who otherwise would not have been likely to have them, even at Christmas.

Commander William Cochran wishes to thank the people of this city for their cooperation.

The main source of the toys, the Legion announced at the beginning of the drive, was the overflow of Christmas presents received by almost all American children. It was hoped that in providing happiness for one season for Europe's children, those who donated to the project would also be helping build the foundations of peace through understanding and sharing.

Umbrella Men Give Trouble

Denver—(AP)—In pioneer days, it was the women of the west who gave trouble. Now it is umbrella men, says Robert C. Davis.

Davis is regional engineer of the U. S. Geological Survey. In the summer time he has 50 to 100 survey crews working. The hot sun in varying density of atmosphere causes refraction. So each crew which works with a spirit level has a man to hold an umbrella over the level.

Trouble comes, Davis says, "when we have to explain why we hire men to hold umbrellas over other men."

TOP HEROES OF TWO WARS were Sgt. Alvin York, a Tennessee farmer who in the first World War outfought a whole German machinegun battalion with only a rifle and pistol, and Lt. Audie Murphy of Farmersville, Tex., who won his Congressional Medal of Honor for a series of brave feats at Anzio and in southern France. Both men received the nation's highest decoration, and Murphy became known as the "most decorated soldier of World War II." Sergeant York is credited with killing 20 Germans and capturing 132 more while opening the way for an American advance in the Argonne. Among Murphy's feats was the repulse, almost single-handed, of a strong German infantry counter-attack supported by six tanks.

IF YOU'RE PALE AS A GHOST!!

When your skin has a pallor (sallow complexion) with that faded-out look, or your nerves are jaded and you have that "all-in" feeling, it is usually due to one thing, that is:

BLOOD POVERTY

Your blood cells may be fagged-out or shrunken, and you might not realize it. Even if you eat the "best" foods you may not be getting all the good out of your meals simply because you have SLOW Digestion, without knowing it (or gassy stomach) and a result you are a victim of Blood Poverty! In other words your blood is not getting the fullest good out of what you eat. So your blood-cells become worn-down and you have only half as much energy as you really need, you get up in the mornings still tired, and your nerves become dull.

Hundreds here in Jacksonville suffered with "faded-out" blood and stomach gas until they got CERTA-VIN. This is the new medicine containing 12 Herbs blended with Vitamin B and Iron; you take it before meals and it works with your food. Benefit comes quickly. Your food man digests FASTER, with less gasiness, and you get more good out of your meals. In a few days your blood is energized with new red cells and your nerves become stronger. Weak, rundown people tell us they soon with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jun- feel different all over. And best of all, our price on CERTA-VIN is rea- sonable. You can actually take this New, modern medicine for only a Few Cents a Day! So don't go on feeling half-sick and half-well. Get CERTA-VIN—Mace's Drug Store.

Survey Fights Refraction

Denver —(AP)— Measuring mountains from New Mexico to the Canadian border, plus Alaska, is part of the job of the people who work under the U. S. Geological Survey's Rocky Mountain Regional Engineer Robert O. Davis. Davis admits that some of the present figures may be off a few feet.

The principal reason for errors is the refraction of sight, caused by the varying densities of the atmosphere. The Denver office of the geological survey is planning an experiment to try to correct for this curvature.

One field party will work from the top of a mountain and another from the base. Using portable radios, both parties will take readings at exactly the same minute, and thus corrections can be made for refraction. It has to be done this way because changes in the atmosphere can change the degree of refraction in as little as an hour.

MANCHESTER

Manchester—Mr. and Mrs. Nor- man Kelley and daughter of East St. Louis spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curt meals. # End of a Chapter

THE STORY: Alice Pine has been engaged as literary secretary by the popular author, Mrs. Muriel Halleck, who writes under the name of "Jo Palgrave." Alice is pleased with the surroundings and the place she meets Brent Halleck, Muriel's husband, with his four-year-old nephew Rick. Brent mistakes Alice for a trespasser, and then introduces himself. Rick's parents were killed in a plane crash and the Hallecks adopted him, Brent says.

III

MURIEL HALLECK was on the terrace as her husband Brent came up with Alice Pine and Rick. "Well," she said to Alice, "I see you've met my family."

"Quite informally. But you didn't tell me you had a cute little boy, Mrs. Halleck."

"Look, Alice, let's drop the 'Mrs. Halleck-Miss Pine' business. My name's Muriel. But"—she shook her pale-gold head—"I can't think why I didn't mention Rick. Too excited, I guess, about engaging a secretary."

"Now, really," Alice said, "you'll make me feel too important—Muriel."

"I assure you, you're going to be very important," Muriel turned to Brent who had stood silently by, his mouth, Alice thought, a trifle sardonic. "Go and change, will you, darling? Then make us cocktails."

Brent moved off at once. "Come on, Rick! Time for your supper. I'll have you over to Stella."

"Stella," Muriel explained to Alice, "is a combination housemaid and nurse. And a perfect godsend. I simply can't give the child the time I'd like to give him."

Alice could believe it. Manifestly, her profession alone was enough to occupy Muriel Halleck.

"But Brent and I manage to be with him a good deal. And now that you're going to take scads of work off my hands, maybe I'll do better. Well, let's go in."

Brent rejoined them in the living room. He was still in sports clothing, but of more presentable variety. He dropped into a chair, began lighting a cigarette.

Muriel's slipper tapped softly. "Brent, dear! Cocktails!"

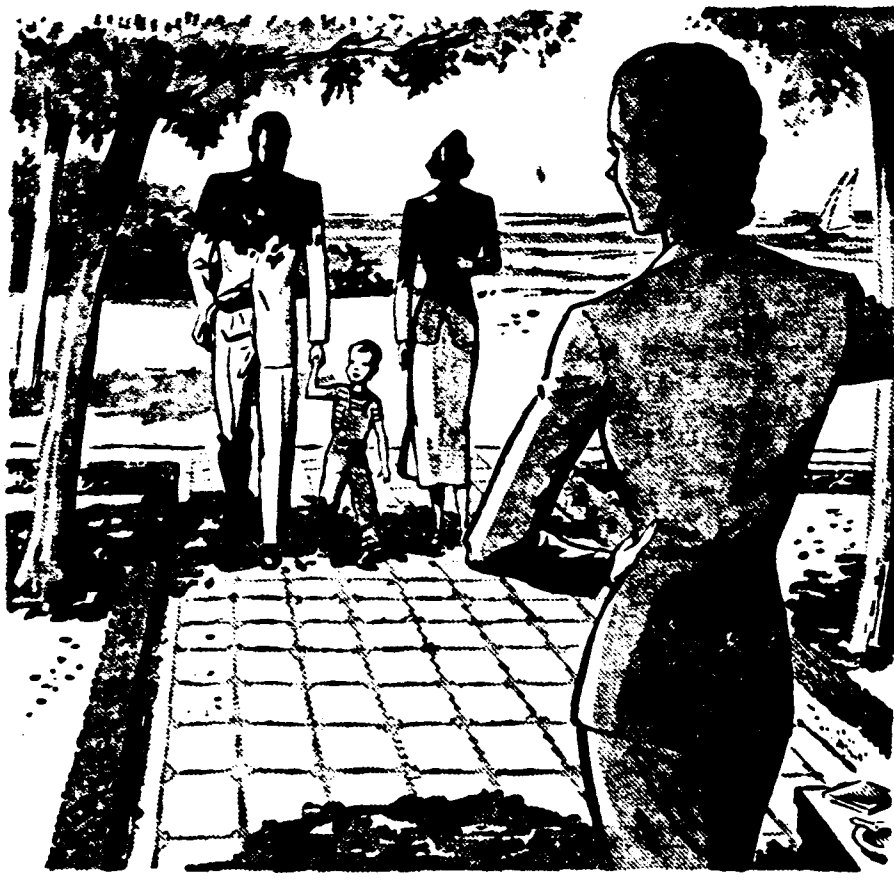

"Oh, yes." He got up hurriedly, shaking out his match. "Forgot you wanted 'em."

When he had gone, Muriel laughed. "That's Brent. Daydreams on all occasions. You'll have to get used to him."

Alice said nothing. But Brent Halleck had not impressed her as a dreamer. Rather, he'd seemed very aware and coldly withdrawn into himself.

MURIEL refused to discuss prospective working arrangements that night. "Time enough for shop talk tomorrow," she said, "when we're fresh. Tonight we're going to relax."

They relaxed by themselves, for Brent disappeared after dinner. Alice was not particularly surprised. He had already established himself in her opinion as an aloof,

"Well," Muriel said to Alice, "I see you've met my family."

moody man. But if so Muriel, with her gay laugh and easy chatter, was a perfect foil for him. And decidedly the better company.

The next morning, however, Muriel ceased chattering. Taking the novel manuscript from her writing table, she became strictly businesslike. "Here," she said, "is an outline of my book and rough drafts of a few chapters. I want you to read the whole thing. And if you have any reservations or criticisms, don't hesitate. It's part of your job to help me think."

"I'll try to," Alice said doubtfully.

Muriel laughed. "Don't look so terrified. I'm not expecting, may-be, an Einstein. But I told you I didn't want just a stenographer. Now I'll show you where I've put you."

Alice's workroom was a small library at the rear of the house. Its walls were book-lined. An office desk of dark wood was at variance with the other furnishings. Just outside an ancient apple tree thrust branches almost against the windows.

"This," Muriel kicked the desk, "looks like the devil in here. But you won't mind, will you?"

"Not a bit. Besides, it's the kind I'm used to."

MURIEL went away and Alice settled down with the outline. And although it was just that, a synopsis without embellishment or trimming, the thing interested her immediately. Muriel Halleck had a quick and logical mind. She appeared able to proceed from A to B, and beyond, with the precision of a Euclid. Alice found herself marveling slightly at the structural perfection of the book's plan.

Having read it, she looked industriously for flaws. But Muriel seemed to have anticipated and answered practically everything. And she had the nucleus of a powerful story. If the execution was—Alice paused and blew cigarette smoke streamers. Yes, granted the writing stood up, this book would be the kind that got right in at you; hit you where you lived.

A little doubtfully she turned to the chapter drafts. Doubtfully, because she was strangely afraid of a letdown. Then, about to read, she paused.

Was not this feeling of uncertainty significant? Had the characters and situations of the outline been weak or inconsequential, she would not have been interested enough to be doubtful. In brief, she wouldn't have cared. To Alice, that seemed proof that a sound novel was under construction.

AN hour later she knocked at Muriel's study. Muriel was enthroned behind her typewriter, hair awry, a grease smudge on her nose. A butt-choked ashtray stood at her elbow.

"Well, finished it?" Muriel asked expectantly.

Alice wasted no words. "I have. And I think it's swell."

Muriel's face lighted, but discreetly. "Really? That's fine. But remember, Alice! No yes-sing, now or ever!"

"I'm not yes-sing you," Alice said sincerely. "I'm no professional critic. But if you want the opinion of an average woman, you have a wonderful story here."

Muriel waved. "All right, and thanks. That's the good news. Now let's have the bad. And don't pull any punches, Alice. If you ever do, I'll fire you. Just like that."

Her fingers snapped. Her smile was gone.

"My gosh!" Alice thought. "She means it. She's not kidding about this work of hers."

Springfield Railroad Man Gets Quick Relief With Rentox

Mr. P. H. Buckley, 817 Milton Ave., Relieved By Rentox After Other Medicines Fail

"I have tried many other medicines but they were all so harsh that I had to quit taking them," writes Mr. Buckley. "I am a railroad man and have been suffering from constipation, gas and bloating for years. I had no appetite at all and suffered a great deal from indigestion caused by eating quick meals that are too greasy. Most railroad men suffer from the same conditions and try many remedies such as I have. My wife saw Rentox advertised and decided to give it a trial. To my surprise, after taking the first bottle I began to feel much better. My bowels are again regular. I no longer suffer from indigestion and gas and my appetite is much better. Before taking Rentox I didn't sleep well and had difficulty getting up in the morning. Now that I sleep well I have no difficulty getting up and have more pep during the day. Rentox is mild and pleasant to take and I recommend it to anyone."

Message For Beautyland

Penzance, England.—(AP)—The fame of this Cornish town has spread to Nigeria and aroused the curiosity of at least one native. Town Clerk D. J. Beattie coached a Nigerian Usman Gwarzo, in local government during a three-month visit Gwarzo paid to Penzance earlier this year.

Then Beattie got a letter from Gwarzo's fellow countryman, Emmanuel Ikwele of Onitsha, South Nigeria. It read:

"My beloved Beattie of Penzance, I like to have Penzance beautyland and good news. Pass it to me. The clerk is passing Ikwele all the literature on Penzance he can lay his hands on."

Humming Birds Burned Up

Berkeley, Calif.—(AP)—Humming birds burn up 13 cubic centimeters of oxygen per gram of body weight every day, says Dr. Oliver P. Pearson of the University of California. A man uses about 16 quarts of oxygen an hour but would use 1,060 if he burned it at the rate a humming bird does, he says.

FROZEN WITNESSES IRK BERLIN

Berlin.—(AP)—Berlin's court buildings are freezing out witnesses, warned the "Berliner Anzeiger." The newspaper complained that sometimes witnesses are called only after as much as seven hours of waiting. "This is too much," it declared. It makes people hungry and mad. In addition, the court halls are so drafty that the witnesses get cold feet."

COLORADO GROWS MORE VEGETABLES

Denver.—(AP)—Vegetables were a $19,237,000 price tag in Colorado in 1949.

That was the value placed on the state's commercial vegetable crop by the U. S. department of agriculture. It represented a 55 per cent jump from the value of the 1948 crop, $12,376,000.

Harnessing Mississippi Floods Opening Vast New Power Resource In Valley

BY G. MILTON KELLY
AP Special Washington Service
Washington, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Harnessing the floods that periodically have ravaged the Mississippi valley is opening vast new resources of electric power, and President Truman has called for getting every kilowatt out of them.

He dreams of a giant Midwestern "Central Valley" program integrating development of the upper Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers, with public power projects wherever feasible.

This is part of his overall idea, which he discussed at a recent news conference, of co-ordinate development of all of the nation's great river valleys.

Thus, another chapter in the public-versus-private power fight would seem to be in the making.

More specifically, the president suggested a $1,500,000,000 flood control and navigation program in the upper two-thirds of the sprawling Mississippi valley—which he called the country's vast "central valley"—with public power an important product.

Projects already completed have added 4,307,000 kilowatts a year to the area's power resources, the army engineers report. The engineers, whose main job in peacetime is the building of flood control and navigation works, call that only a fraction of the potential.

Such kilowatt figures may not mean much to the average reader, but to advocates of public power they potent industrial growth and better living conditions.

They estimate 25,000 kilowatts a year will supply enough electricity for an average city of 50,000 population—a half kilowatt per person—and that some day the valley may produce 10,000,000 more kilowatts from its water control projects.

But, that time is so far ahead, they won't even guess when.

There is an almost endless stock of projects for the three valleys from which congress—which is the boss—may choose. Advocates of coordinated development say that getting the money from congress to finance the work in some logical pattern is the main task. The cost run high.

Projects charted for the Ohio basin alone would cost more than $6,750,000,000, the army engineers say, and some day may produce a by-product of 4,980,000 kilowatts—enough for nearly 10,000,000 people.

In the basin lie parts of New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois—rich industrial and agricultural areas.

For the Missouri basin the planners have a stock of $6,125,000,000.

Woolled lambs stayed at their recent peak level of $24.75 for choice quality. A deck of yearlings were $21. And the ewe market ranged downward from $13.

Estimated supplies included 11,000 hogs where 14,000 had been expected, 7,000 cattle, 300 calves, and 1,000 sheep.

S. except President Truman to receive television in color.

IC, Millikin Tiff To Decide League Leader

Illinois College demonstrated that they aren't fooling about their C.C.I. ambitions when they steam-rolled Wesleyan's Titans 88-67 at Jacksonville last Saturday. The win pushes Millikin to Decatur to the top of the Little Nine race and puts the Blue-boys in a tie with the Wheaton Crusaders for the number two spot.

A crucial contest, the only conference game of the week, will be played Saturday in Jacksonville where Illinois College entertains Millikin. The winner automatically moves into first place.

Wheaton plays non-conference games in its annual Eastern road trip. The Crusaders take on the Kings College in Philadelphia and Geneva College at Beaver Falls, Penna., and Morris Harvey of Charleston, W. Va., before returning to Wheaton.

Philadelphia, Jan. 25.—(P)—President Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies is learning that it costs money to field a winning ball club.

The Phillies finished their last year and Carpenter as yet hasn't found a player who thinks he personally didn't account for the club's lofty finish.

The attitudes run something like this: Pitcher Ken Heintzmann: If I hadn't won 17 games where would we have finished?

Outfielder Del Ennis: I hit .302 and batted in 110 runs. That helped more than a little to finish third.

Willie Jones: I'm rated the best third baseman in the National League by some. That ought to rate me more cash.

Jim Konstanty: I saved 12 games in relief and won nine others. We'd never have made the first division.

A club spokesman said Carpenter hadn't even heard from shortstop Granny Hamner.

"He'll probably see that Phil Rizzuto got $35,000 from the New York Yankees and want at least as much," the spokesman said.

FBI Arrests Three Described As Head Of Stolen Fur Ring

New York, Jan. 25.—(P)—The FBI arrested today three men described by the government as "the nucleus of a million-dollar stolen fur ring."

They were identified by authorities as Nicholas Proscia, 42, president of Loran Furs, Inc.; Max Davis, 40, secretary-treasurer of the Loran firm; and Thomas A. Carr, 51, a railway express agency driver since 1917.

Proscia and Davis were held in $10,000 bail each by U.S. Commissioner Edward McDonald. Carr was held in $5,000 bail.

All three are charged with conspiracy to steal merchandise in interstate commerce.

Edward Scheidt, special agent in charge of the New York FBI division, said Carr stole quantities of mink, ermine, chinchilla and other furs entrusted to him for delivery, as well as furs which other drivers were scheduled to deliver.

Investigators found, Scheidt said, that while Carr had no visible income except his driver's salary he maintained a summer home at Fayson Lakes, N.J., drove a costly automobile and took expensive vacations.

Young Upsetter Wins GOP Place For Thomas Post

Hackensack, N. J., Jan. 25.—(P)—A young state legislator upset reelection forecasts yesterday and won the Republican nomination for imprisoned J. Parnell Thomas' vacated congressional post.

William B. Windall, 43-year-old attorney and state assemblyman, eked out an unofficial 299-vote victory over Harry C. Harper, one-time big league baseball pitcher.

Harper, who now is state labor commissioner, was backed by the GOP organization in the state's seventh congressional district primary election. He was a heavy favorite over Windall who claimed the regular Republican organization had tried to force him out of the race.

Windall will be opposed by Democratic George T. English in the Feb. 6 special election. English, a former mayor of East Patterson, N. J., was the only Democratic candidate in yesterday's primary.

Walter Hagen won five Western Open golf tournaments during his career, more than any other player.

Richland County Supervisors Vote To Fire Warren

Olney, Ill., Jan. 25.—(P)—All eleven Richland county supervisors voted today to fire county highway superintendent Frank L. Warren.

He is under 36 indictments charging embezzlement or forgery.

Warren, who has served six years in the elective office, has been free on $10,000 bond. He pleaded innocent to 27 indictments last December. Trial on those charges was set for March 13.

He has not been arraigned on nine other like indictments returned by a grand jury last Monday.

The vote to oust Warren came during a public hearing on a petition in which 29 Noble, Ill., residents charged him with incompetence and neglect.

The first indictments alleging forgery involved a total of $7719 and those charging embezzlement $1793. No amount was set in a charge of public funds diversion. The latest nine forgery charges involved a total of $3922.

EXPECT CONTINUED SAVINGS ON ROAD COSTS IN ILLINOIS

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 25.—(P)—Indications point to continued savings in 1950 on Illinois highway construction, Director Charles P. Casey of the state police works department said today.

Savings last year totaled $3,000,000, Casey said. He added that on the first batch of road projects this year low bids totaled $1,042,759, or 144 per cent below cost estimates by highway division engineers.

Casey said the number of contractors offering proposals on individual jobs also continues to show a substantial increase.

CANAL EARNING PROFIT

Washington, Jan. 25.—(P)—The Panama Canal is earning a profit, but a slim one.

Net operating revenues of $534,375 in the 12 months last June 30 represented a profit of one-tenth of one per cent, and brought total earnings since 1941 to 1.86 per cent, Brig. Gen. F. K. Newcomer, canal governor said.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—(P)—First-place Ohio State is the most prolific scoring team with a 67.2-point average, but fourth-spot Minnesota is the most accurate shooting club in the Big Ten basketball race.

Minnesota's Gophers (2-2) who face Ohio State (4-1) at Minneapolis Saturday night, have connected on 96 of 293 field goal attempts for a 328 percentage. Ohio State has a percentage of 322 on 117 field goals in 383 attempts. Only other 300 shooting team is Northwestern (2-3) with 303.

Official conference statistics released today also disclosed that second-place Wisconsin (3-1) has the best defensive record, yielding an average of 51.5 points per game. Ohio has surrendered an average of 58.2 points in its five starts. Minnesota's average yield is 52.2.

The Buckeyes have the best free throw record with a 646 percentage on 102 conversions in 158 tries. Well in front as the team fouling most frequently is third-place Illinois (3-2) with 140 personals. Next closest is Ohio with 115.

Though it has lost some of its glitter, the Griggsville-Pittsfield hardwood fracas at the Pike county seat town Friday night still interests us Griggsville's Tornadoes (copied after the Taylorville club of the same name—formerly Maroons) ran roughshod over everything in their path early in the year, but Eddie Willard's boys lost their punch in the Winchester tournament and failed to reach the semi-finals. Pittsfield is this section's defending champion quintet and will provide the Griggs with all they want in the way of stiff competition.

—O— Since Winchester knocked off Griggsville and Quincy slaughtered Glenn Smith's Pittsfield aggregation, we're of the opinion that neither team will survive the regional tournament if Mt. Sterling is among the entrants.

Stan Spotts sends word from Florida, that he and Ralph Race, Francis Bunch and Gene Dole are having a great time enjoying the sunshine and swimming in the Atlantic ocean besides playing baseball at Jack Rossiter's training school. Stan may report to his Orlando club in February while Charlie Due, ex-Illinois College catcher, is scheduled to leave for the sunny southland at the same time.

—O— Bob Sims, a handy gent around third base, has been approached by the Chicago Cubs to sign a contract with Centralia, Ill., of the Mississippi Valley, class D, league.

Bob laughingly returned the contract unsigned, adding that he would do better at his present trade—bushwhacking—than cutting up second-basemen with baseball spikes.

—O— Don Irving, Chambersburg's man of distinction, told last night that Butch Pool, ex-Burger baseball and basketball star, has been signed to a Brooklyn Dodger contract and will train with the Bums in Florida, this month.

—O— The average weekly earnings for 15,000 production workers in the nation's manufacturing establishments reached a new high of $56.20 in mid-December.

A 1949 peak of 43,700,000 persons was reported in industrial and commercial employment. That was an increase of 924,000 over the mid-November figure.

Pre-holiday seasonal increases in trade and postoffice activities accounted for most of the gain in employment. About 275,000 workers in steel and automobile industries were back on the job following wide-scale strikes.

Manufacturing, led by textiles and wearing apparel, increased by one quarter of a million between July and December, the bureau reported.

Tigers Nick Bluffs 42-39, Indians Win 47-40; Semis Tonight

Semi-Finals Tonight
Routt vs. Mt. Sterling (7:15 p.m.)
ISD vs. Meredosia (8:45 p.m.)

Chapin's second-rated Bearcat quintet was pushed from the PMBC tournament by a stubborn dark horse Meredosia outfit 47-40 in a first-round tussle at I.S.D. last night while the Tigers hosts managed to stay in the running by fashioning a narrow 42-39 victory over the Bluffs Bluejays in the second session.

Semi-finals are scheduled for this evening. Routt and Mt. Sterling, the number-one entry, meet at 7:15 and I.S.D. takes on Meredosia in the last encounter.

Though Meredosia led at every stopping point—after the first quarter—in the opening tussle, the outcome was in doubt several times. The count was knotted at 10-10 going into the second frame.

Both clubs fought on even terms through second inning action but a long two-handed shot by Meredosia's Lacy 'ut the Indians ahead 23-21 at halftime.

It was all Meredosia in the third chapter. The underdogs stretched their lead to 32-25. Chapin paced by Jimmy Bonds got back in the ball game early in the third period and commanded a four point lead before Dick Simon and Joe Newman put Meredosia back on front.

Albert Taylor, Chapin guard, held his fire until the last two minutes when he bucketed three successive long shots to boost his club to the 40 point mark.

Tall Bluejays Give I.S.D. Trouble
Spike Wilson's Tiger basketballers had their hands full with a taller Bluffs ball club, playing a zone defense.

Leo Cecil, Tiger ace, was held scoreless by the lanky Bluejays in the first quarter and consequently I.S.D. led only 6-5 at the break.

After Bluffs had jumped out front 11-7, mainly because of the efforts of little Wayne Buhlig; Cecil started connecting and drilled four fielders and added a free throw to help the hosts go ahead 23-16 at the intermission.

It was red-headed Gilbert Paul who kept I.S.D. in the ball game at first. His left hand connected for all six I.S.D. point the first quarter.

The Wilsonmen maintained their advantage through a slow third quarter, leading 33-26 at this stage of the game. Bluffs rallied for a brief period early in the fourth quarter and pulled up 33-32 before Cecil and Paul stole the ball four straight times from Bluffey guards and shot the Tigers ahead 41-33.

Bluffs rallied mildly late in the game but found I.S.D. advantage too great to overcome.

Cecil, Paul Lead All Scorers
Cecil and Paul were the highest scorers of the evening, netting 17 and 15 points each. James scored 10 for Bluffs; Don Taylor 13 for Chapin; and Dick Simon got 12 for Meredosia.

Games last night were played before a full crowd of approximately 800 fans.

ARCADIA A.T.A. MARCH OF DIMES DANCE. ROUND & SQUARE. FRI. JAN. 27

Notice
In respect to the memory of Al. Kenneth Woods, the City business offices will be closed Thursday afternoon.

Ernest L. Hoagland, Mayor.

Mrs. Evelyn Siebert, 28 year old Springfield restaurant proprietor, was the first defendant called before Judge Smith to face a charge of burglarizing the Waverly Implement company store several weeks ago. She entered a plea of guilty and asked to be admitted to probation.

To Hear Report Feb. 1
The judge referred her petition to the probation officer for investigation and report next Wednesday, Feb. 1.

Virgil Gorda, 21, was brought before the court Wednesday afternoon with his counsel, Attorney Andrew Ormiston, public defender and Jack Weiner of Springfield. Gorda entered a plea of guilty to burglary as charged in the indictment and also asked to be admitted to probation.

His petition was also referred to the probation officer for investigation and report Feb. 1.

Clyde Cornett, 43, was next called to the bench. He was accompanied by Attorney Ormiston, the public defender.

Cornett told the court that he wished to enter a plea of guilty, which was accepted by the court. Sheriff Bourn Testifies Assistant State's Attorney William T. Wilson then placed Sheriff Ralph Bourn on the stand for a review of a case. Sheriff Bourn testified that Cornett had admitted his part in the robberies of the Waverly Implement store, the Alps tavern and the Tommy store, all in Morgan county. The sheriff said that Cornett had cooperated with him and had admitted that he was the instigator of the robberies.

Cornett was also placed on the stand by Public Defender Ormiston. He testified that he had been the proprietor of a restaurant in Springfield for a year, selling the business to his wife and going to work for Mrs. Siebert. He told the court that they needed some money and decided to "pull off a few robberies to raise funds."

Mr. Wilson offered Cornett's criminal record as an exhibit. The record showed, and Cornett admitted it under questioning, that he had served prison sentences in the state of Washington, Missouri prison at Jefferson City and the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas.

After hearing the testimony Judge Smith said that in passing sentence he was taking into consideration that Cornett had "gone straight" for two years and worked long hours at the restaurants. He also took under consideration that Cornett did not resist arrest and had cooperated in every way with the sheriff and state's attorney. He also noted that Cornett admitted being the instigator of the Morgan county robberies.

The court then sentenced Cornett to a term of one year to life in the Illinois state penitentiary.

The parole board, which will fix the exact time that he must serve in prison.

Highway Sergeant Talks On Driving At Virginia Club

Virginia—Sergeant Scott E. Kent of the Illinois State Highway safety section was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Virginia Kiwanis club held in the Legion Hall on Monday evening.

The speaker brought out the fact that the older people driving cars learned to drive through the trial and error method, and often it looked as if error was the predominant factor. The present idea is that the young people in our schools should be taught how to drive cars just as they are taught other subjects while of school age.

It was stated that manufacturers of cars and oil dealers were willing to cooperate in this effort to teach better driving, by furnishing equipment and supplies. It was emphasized that "the life you save may be your own."

Moving pictures were shown to visualize errors in auto driving.

On next Monday evening local Kiwanians will take the travelling gavel to Kilbourn. No meeting will be held at Virginia.

The Virginia Woman's club will hold its next regular meeting on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 2 at 2:30 p.m. at the local Presbyterian church. Mrs. William Crawford, president of the local club, has announced a board meeting which will precede the program.

Duane Gronau of Rockford and Roy Arroll of Long Beach, N. Y., were the debaters for Phi Alpha.

Phi Alpha was the winner in the series for the past two years, and would have gained permanent possession of the trophy had it won the judge's decision last night.

Births last year more than doubled the number of deaths, which totaled 90,931 from all causes.

Dr. Roland R. Cross, state health director, said the birth rate probably will drop during the middle of the 1950s.

"The fact that fewer children were born in the 1930s will result in fewer young people to become fathers, and mothers during the 1950s," he said.

The 1949 death rate of 10.8 per 1,000 population was the same as the previous year. More than half of all deaths occurred among persons 65 or over, the department said.

Births In Illinois Boom In 1949 To Near Record High

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 25—(AP)—Illinois births boomed to 185,169 during 1949, topped only by the record high of 192,420 in 1947, the state health department reported today.

The 1949 birth rate of 21.9 per 1,000 inhabitants also is higher than any year except 1947 when the rate was 23.4. The 1948 rate was 21.7.

Births last year more than doubled the number of deaths, which totaled 90,931 from all causes.

Dr. Roland R. Cross, state health director, said the birth rate probably will drop during the middle of the 1950s.

St. Louis May Soon Be Nation's 1st To Bond Baby Sitters

St. Louis, Jan. 25—(AP)—St. Louis may soon have the first bonded baby sitters in the country, it was announced today.

Paul P. Connole, manager of the St. Louis office of the Missouri state employment agency, said plans are underway to guarantee up to $2,500 the honesty and fidelity of any baby sitter sent to a client.

The St. Louis office, which made history last month by setting up the first state operated baby-sitting service, has decided to add the bond feature to stimulate even more demand for the service, Connole said.

"There's no budget allocation for paying the fee for such a bond," Connole said, "but the supervisory personnel of our office is contributing to a fund to cover the expense."

Likewise, he added, no bonding companies have had experience in this type of bonding and the state agency had had hard time finding a firm to handle the contract.

Heart Drive Advisers, Civic Leaders Chart Campaign For Funds

The advisory committee of the newly founded Morgan County Heart association met with representatives of most of the city and county organizations at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday at the Dunlap hotel. This was the final session in preparation for the campaign to start Feb. 1, for which Boy Scouts, under the leadership of D. M. McDermott, will distribute plastic hearts to a number of stores.

Sydney Virco from the headquarters of the Illinois Heart association at Springfield was guest speaker at the meeting. He was introduced by R. E. May, chairman, who made a short statement of the group's aims to collect a fund, possibly of $4,000, of which 55 per cent would be used to maintain this county's chapter.

Thus education concerning heart disease could become widespread here, research conducted and perhaps eventually free medical care given to those with ailing hearts. Mr. May added that all checks should be made out to Karl Baker, secretary.

First Drive In 1949
Virco explained that the American association had been in existence for 30 years, but until last year no drive for funds was made. It is composed of a group of medical men devoted to research, care and cure of heart ills, which are the leading cause of death in America. The American Legion was one of the first groups to contribute in order to help the work and make it more widespread.

Dr. W. H. Newcomb, Dr. Garm Norbury and Dr. Robert R. Hartman, members of the advisory committee, made brief remarks after the address.

Groups Represented
Dr. D. E. Blodgett, city superintendent of schools, was present as a representative of the educational system, for which John Deem, county superintendent, will also lend his services. Chester A. Thomason attended as the Farm Bureau representative; Harvey Green, factories and industry; and Robert Foster, farmer, outlying towns including Alexander, Franklin, Waverly, Woodson, Chapin and Concord.

Mrs. Fletcher, Blackburn, past president of the Federation of Women's clubs, will lead that group's participation in the campaign. Henri Servais, the civic clubs; Earl Grojean and Waldo McCreery, business and professional men; William Cochran, commissioner, the American Legion; Louis Niernner, Wilbur Freitag and Wilbur DePrates, labor. The Y.M.C.A., the ministerial association, the Amvets, the V.F.W., and other groups will also be contacted.

Farmers To Hear Talks
M. H. Banner, Scott county farm adviser, urges all farmers to attend the legumes-grass meeting, which will be held at the American Legion Home in Winchester at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 1.

The program will stress three main points: (1) farm with less work, (2) reduce feed costs, (3) control soil erosion.

Speakers at the meeting will be Roy Johnson, Scott county soil conservationist; John C. Moore, PMA chairman, and Farm Adviser Banner.

The discussion will be followed by a movie on the subject, taken on farms from all sections of Illinois. The film is entitled, "Green Dollars."

Winchester Personal
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Farnsworth have returned from a two weeks' trip to California. While there they visited several relatives.

Mrs. Nathan Hahn of Springfield spent the week end with her sister, Miss Virginia Hainsfurther.
